

American Literature - seminar

This course is an extension of the American Literature - lecture course. Its aim is to apply the theoretical knowledge acquired at the lectures in critical reading, to analysis and interpretation of texts, which are selected in accord with the topics of the theoretical lectures.